Love's Flower-Garden.

I planted a garden for you, Love—
A garden deep down in my heart;
Wild wishes I scattered and true love,
With tear-drops that bud when we part;
And I never was weary of sowing
Heart-whispers, with tendrils to cling;
And I sat down and longed for the blowing,
And sighed for the kisses of Spring.

She came, and our knees bent before her,
My flow'rets leapt up from their bed,
When she summoned them forth to adore her
For the blue of her hyacinth head;
And I cried to sweet Summer to linger,
When she shone with her glories untold;
Your lips were rose-touched with her finger,
Your tresses re-gilt with her gold.

Sad Autumn came stealthily creeping,
With its ruin of russet and pain;
And the love which had blossomed lay sleeping,
Or stooped with the weight of the rain.
Red leaves fell in sorrow around us,
And under the ear was the blight;
The life of the roses which bound us
Died out in the dark of the night.

O, pitiless Winter and cruel,
To slay what the Autumn laid low!
The flame was alive, but the fuel
Was crushed with the weight of your snow.
Not a trace of the Spring and its blue, Love;
Not a flower from the Summer to save;
I can twine but a garden of yew, Love;
My garden is changed to a grave!

MARSHALL, THE GOLD DISCOVERER.—John H. Hittell, of the Alta California, is now traveling over the mining regions of the State and giving the result of his observations in the Alta. In a letter dated Coloma, June 25th, he gives an account of an interview which he had with James Wilson Marshall, the discoverer of gold in California, from which the following extracts are taken:

He is sixty-four years of age, a bachelor, about five feet eleven inches high, and slim in figure, his complexion is sanguine; his hair light brown; his eyes blue. I had a long chat with him, and he spoke freely of his adventure and discovery. A native of New Jersey, he moved to Missouri; thence went in 1844 over land to Oregon, and came in 1845, by way of Willamette Valley, to California. For about a year he worked for Sutter as carpenter and wagon maker, and would probably have worked longer, but the revolt of the Americans north of the Bay soon found him in the ranks of the Bear Flag party, and when the Stars and Stripes were hoisted he volunteered in the California Battalion and served as a soldier until March, 1847, when he returned to New Helvetia. He found Sutter anxious to build a saw mill. There was a demand for lumber at the Sandwich Islands, and nothing else that could be produced at or near Sutter's Fort would at all times produce cash. Marshall being a universal Yankee genius, took charge of the matter and discovered that Coloma, distant fifty miles, and only eight hundred feet above the level of the sea, had water power, timber and was accessible by wagons without any expense for road making, though others who had been out searching said no place could be found.

On the 19th of August Sutter and Marshall entered into partnership, the articles of agreement having been drawn up by John Bidwell. Sutter was to furnish the money and Marshall was to do the carpenter work and manage the erection of the mill and its work after completion. About the last of August he moved up to the place, taking with him as employes, P. L. Weimer and family, and six laborers. They built a cabin, commenced work on the mill, and on the 19th of January following, were washing out a mill race, when Marshall saw in the water something yellow, which he picked up. It was about half as large as a white bean, and upon looking at it he was satisfied it was gold. He showed it to the men of the mill, and they did not believe it was gold. At any rate, none knew anything of gold mining, and they continued to work at the mill for several months, though they would frequently search for the precious metal and find pieces of it.

On the 28th of February Sutter visited Coloma for the first time, and he, like most of the others, attached little importance to the gold. It was not until April that every other occupation was abandoned for mining. In that month, Isaac Humphrey, who had worked in the placers of Georgia, having seen some of the nuggets in San Francisco, came to Coloma and satisfied himself in a few hours, by prospecting, that the diggings were very rich, made a rocker and went to work with brilliant success. The others saw his mode of operations, followed his example and had like success. As the news spread, everybody in California rushed to the place, and for a time everything, save mining, was neglected.

Marshall was not a suacessful miner. He was industrious, economical, temperate, but somehow the richest claims fell into the hands of others. Amidst the profusion of gold he remained poor. He was repeatedly defrauded out of good claims, and his discovery was attributed to others. His feelings were embittered and his temper soured. He thought that the community failed to do justice by him. When a newspaper article said that Weimer picked up the first piece of gold, or that Marshall was Sutter's hired laborer at the time of the discovery, he spoke as though the community had conspired to wrong him. His education is limited, but his perceptions are quick, and his conversation lively, and his general character very estimable. No mean or dishonest act is attributed to him, and everybody appears to like him. He is an ardent believer in spiritualism, and when he gets started on that topic he sometimes exhausts the patience of his hearers.

A HOSIER who is now one of the famous tradesmen of Paris (he has his million) began life by practising an economy which seemed ferocious to his family. His rule was never to eat anything but the scraps left, unless the sales of the shop supplied the money. Everything that entered the till the preceding day after the day's expenses were paid remained there. One morning only one customer came in. He bought, however, twenty francs' worth of goods. The family were in high spirits, and made sure of breakfasting. Unfortunately, the purchaser paid for his goods with a bran, new, gold Napoleon. The tradesman said: "Twould really be a pity to change that pretty piece," and he locked it in the till.

Letter from Herschel V. Johnson.

We publish the following document by request of several Democratic friends, and knowing that it will be perused with interest by those who may not have had an opportunity of reading it heretofore, and believing it worthy of a second careful reading by those who have already read it, we cheerfully give it place in our columns:

To the Editor of the Tribune—SIR:—You have commented in the Tribune on my recent letter to a committee of Atlanta, Georgia, expressing my views, in part, upon the scheme of reconstruction adopted by Congress and offered to the ten proscribed States for their acceptance. Your comments are intended to be severe; they are also unjust to me and to those who may agree with me, though, I am bound to presume, not so intended by you. I should have felt grateful if you had published the letter, which, I believe, you have not done. I claim no right to its publication in the Tribune; for I fully recognize your right to publish or reject whatsoever you may deem expedient and proper. I therefore prefer no complaint on this score, though, from your usual fairness, I might have expected you to pursue a different course.

The masses at the North, and I am not sure that the remark is not applicable even to yourself and very many of the editors and leading men of that section, are not informed of the true condition of things in Georgia and the other nine States which are termed disloyal. Especially are they not informed of the real feelings and motives of those who are adverse to the Congressional scheme of reconstruction. If they were, I would fain hope that the policy of the dominant power would be less exacting and proscriptive, not to say oppressive. If those who lead public sentiment in your portion of the Union be true patriots and statesmen, their real desire is to promote the welfare of our whole country and perpetuate good government, in contradistinction to mere party ascendency. This, certainly, should be the aim of good men. I assure you that no other feeling has a place in my breast. I never, in my whole life, cherished a sentiment or did an act of international hostility to the Constitution of the United States or to the Union of the States based upon it, according to my honest opinion of its spirit and meaning.

The late war has wrought great changes in the Southern States, and has brought before the people of the Union for final decision, many grave questions, involving in my poor judgment, the character and destiny of our Government. Indeed, constitutional liberty itself is in great peril This is my honest conviction. Statesmen should survey our surroundings, with the view of averting that peril, rather than the maintenance of party ascendency. No man can more ardently desire the restoration of the Union, upon the principles of the Constitution, than I do. I submit to all the legitimate results of the war, and I would gladly adopt any plan of reconstruction which would not seek to impose terms upon us inconsistent with those results, and calculated to imperil constitutional liberty. You seem to think that I am factiously opposed to the Congressional scheme; that I wish to prolong and aggravate present political disturbance and discord; that I am actuated by a spirit of disloyalty; that I threw the smallest mite of my poor influence into the scale of strife and discontent. Little do you know, and less do you appreciate my earnest longings for peace, harmony, prosperity, national equality and justice.

The scheme of reconstruction offered to us professes to extend to us the right of choosing by vote; it calls on us to say whether we are for or against a convention, such as that scheme contemplates. When I, in the exercise of that volition, express myself as opposed to it, you and the other leading Republicans of the north, who consider my poor opinions worthy to be noticed, infer therefrom that I am disloyal, factious and rebellious. If those who are opposed to that plan of reconstruction are thus to be branded, why call on us to choose? If we be free to choose, is it quite consistent, charitable and just to denounce us because we do not choose as the Republicans desire that we should? Aye, more than this: To threaten us with perpetual disfranchisement and confiscation if we do not so choose? Is that the way to establish State Governments "deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed? It is true, I am disfranchised—I am not permitted to register under the Sherman bill. But I did not know that I was, therefore, not at liberty to write and speak freely to my fellow citizens without being denounced as disloyal and factious.

I profess to be loyal to the Constitution and intend to be loyal to the Union, when it shall be settled that Georgia constitutes one of the States of the Union. But if loyalty means fidelity and adhesion to the Republican party, I shall never belong to it nor be loyal to it, so long as it persists in a course of policy which must end in the overthrow of the Constitution. I have taken the oath of amnesty, and intend to keep it, in good faith, in letter and in spirit. It bids me to support the emancipation of the negroes from slavery. That I intend to do, and favor their investment, by law, with every right that is consistent with their welfare, the interest of well organized society and the perpetuation of good government. More than this you would not ask of me. We may differ honestly as to what rights are compatible with those ends; but that difference does not constitute either of us traitors or disloyalists, in any legitimate sense of that term.

If you could mingle personally with them, I doubt not you would be surprised to learn how little of prejudice against the negro, on account of color and race, exists in the minds of almost the entire mass of the Southern people. We are their friends and wish them well, although they are taught otherwise by those who have come among us for the purpose of using them for political purposes. They appeal to their passions and prejudices, and are busily engaged in organizing them in antagonism to the white race. Where or how this will end we should be in the dark, were it not for the bloody lessons of history. I confess to gloomy forebodings for the future. Heaven grant that I may be wrong in my apprehensions.

You will ask, "If you are the friends of the negro, why do you object to their being universally enfranchised?" I reply, not merely because their skin is black, but because I believe that they are too ignorant to use such enfranchisement rightly and well; that it will be fatal to good government. We have probably sixty thousand colored people in Georgia, who will, hereafter, go to the ballot box, under the plan of Congressional reconstruction—a greater number than that of the white voting population. And so it will be in all the ten proscribed States. The result must be that the several governments of these States must pass into their hands, (who are now being taught by political drill-masters that they have injuries to avenge against the whites) with the tremendous power of taxation, confiscation, and of fixing what shall be the security for the life and liberty of the white citizens. Is not this a terrific picture to contemplate? And can the Northern people wonder that the Congressional policy meets strong, earnest and honest opposition? Let me suppose a case, that will bring it home to the Northern people: Suppose enough of such ignorant voters could be suddenly planted in any ten of the Northern States to overcome the votes of their white citizens, and control the several governments of those States, how do you think New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, New Hampshire and Maine would like the operation? How would they feel under such a policy, that would put all their interests in the hands of such a power?

But it may be replied that those States are not disloyal—rebellious, as are the ten proscribed Southern States, that we deserve such a fate. I am not going to discuss whether we are, in truth, rebellious States. We should differ on that question. But admit that we are rebels, or have been, and therefore deserve to be punished, is this the way to punish us, in view of enlightened statesmanship? Is it wise to punish us by forcing upon us bad government? That might possibly do if we were the only ones to endure the penalty. But it will extend its baleful influence to all other States. It will destroy agriculture; it will swamp the national debt and currency; it will crush out from the breasts of the people of the South the last throb of fraternity, which magnanimity and justice, and wise statesmanship would engender and cherish. Let me add, the calamity will fall upon our posterity for generations to come, and, at present, upon thousands of innocent persons who did not participate in the rebellion. I am, therefore, opposed to the universal enfranchisement of the negro, because it will inaugurate bad government—the very worst of temporal evils to society, not only because their skins are black. If the North are determined to punish the South, let them do it. They have the power; but let them adopt some method besides that of inflicting on us bad government. For the punishment, in that form, will fall upon themselves and all our posterity.

It would seem to me that we have suffered enough to satisfy the most vindictive. Our beautiful region has been desolated, all our slave property, which was worth to us $3,500,000, has been confiscated by the act of emancipation. We could, after a long time, recover from our prostration, if allowed the right of self-government. Ought not statesmen to desire our recuperation? They may despise us as a people, but is it to the interest of the Republic that we should be made paupers and outcasts?

You, I believe, maintain the natural equality of the negro with the white race. I am not going to debate this question with you. The difference between us is irreconcilable. I do not believe in any such equality. But admit, for the sake of argument, that the two races are, by nature, equal. What does the admission amount to but that they are endowed by their Creator with equal capabilities, intellectual and moral, and therefore, under a sufficient course of training, that the negroes among us are susceptible of attaining to to the same state of intelligence, virtue, and civilization which the whites have reached? It does not prove that they are not, in point of fact, the equals of the white race in these indispensable qualities of good citizenship and wise self-government, and no candid man will so insist. But being, as you contend, thus equal by nature, you draw the conclusion that, being free, they have the right to vote. Women are free, and also intelligent and virtuous, yet they are not admitted to the ballot. A large majority of foreigners are highly intelligent and virtuous, yet they are denied the franchise until five years of resident probation. Thousands of boys, at sixteen years of age, are intelligent and virtuous, yet they are postponed to the age of twenty-one years. The colored people of nearly all the Northern States are denied the elective franchise, and where they are not they enjoy qualified suffrage only. Why all this? It simply proves that, no matter what may be your abstract philosophical views of equality between the races, the predominant sentiment of the Northern people is, that mere freedom and equality do not necessarily carry along with them the right to vote; that they regard the elective franchise as a boon bestowed by the respective States upon those only who, it is believed, will use it wisely and well.

Now, are the negroes of the South more intelligent and virtuous than those of the North? No well-informed man, who will be candid, can assert the affirmative. On the contrary, I believe that the free negroes of the North are more intelligent, and, therefore, better qualified to use judiciously the right of suffrage. Why are they excluded from the ballot-box, while those of the South are admitted at the point of the bayonet? This inconsistency clearly demonstrates that those in power are recreant to the principles they profess. If they believe the principle right and sacred, they should make it universally applicable. If, on the other hand, they believe, as I am sure the masses at the North do believe, that the application of the principle in the Northern States is incompatible with good government, then they ought not to enforce it in the South; for the aim of the true statesman is to promote good government in all the States.

The Congressional scheme of reconstruction is based upon the assumption that the proscribed States are without good government—that lawlessness prevails—that life and property are insecure; and the Republican press and leaders assert that loyal citizens, especially those from the North, are abused, persecuted, tormented, and sometimes murdered. This whole assumption is untrue. There is less lawlessness in the South than in the North; the laws are faithfully executed by our Courts of judicature, and even-handed justice is meted out to white and black. We welcome enterprising, good people among us from any quarter. We earnestly wish them to come, with their capital, energy, and enterprise, to aid us in developing our resources, and re-establishing our lost prosperity. But they do not come. Nor will they come, until tranquillity, upon sound principles of statesmanship, shall be restored.

It is a great mistake to suppose that the consummation of the Sherman programme of reconstruction will induce them to come. It may bring trading politicians of so inferior a type that they cannot obtain office at home. They will come to traffic for the black man's vote, in the hope of making their salt by the emoluments of office. But the honest, hard-working mechanic, the capitalist, and the manufacturer, will never cast their destiny and hazard their fortunes in any State that is under negro dominion. It seems to be supposed by many that if these States be once restored to representation in Congress, all will be well, and that prosperity will follow as a matter of course. Never was there a more fatal mistake. There is no certainty of these States being represented in Congress if we adopt the plan of reconstruction—it is not even promised; nor will such admission bring good government to the several States. The Sherman scheme will certainly result in bad government, which Congressional representation has no necessary tendency to cure. And, I repeat, there can be no prosperity for any people cursed with bad government. Capital, energy and enterprise will shun it.

I have written much more than I intended when I began. But I have written in a spirit of the most perfect frankness and kindness. I have much more that I wish to say, but I fear I may take too much space in your columns, if, indeed, you should deem it proper to publish what I have said.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,
HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON.
Augusta, Ga., August 6, 1867.

GREEN HAIR.—James Ferguson, of Buffalo, is a worker in metals, who has wrought in copper only for five months, and his hair, which was lately white, is now of so decided a green that the poor man cannot appear in the street without immediately becoming the object of general curiosity. He is perfectly well, his hair alone is affected by the copper, notwithstanding the precautions he takes to protect it from the action of the metal. Chemical analysis has proved that his hair contains a notable quantity of acetate of copper, and that it is to this circumstance that it owes its beautiful green color, which is most singular and remarkable.

A MISERLY LOVER.—A young lady recently died in Elgin, Illinois, and at her funeral, when her relatives and friends were taking a last look at the loved face, a young man to whom she had been engaged, and who had presented her with an engagement ring but a short time before her death, deliberately bent over the corpse, and in the presence of all in the church removed the ring from her finger and walked off with it.

"THESE ladies are like birds that are on the wing," said a humorous clerk to his employer, as a bevy of shopping damsels left the shop. "Why so?" asked the proprietor. "Because it takes them a long time to settle on their purchase," (perches,) replied the clerk. The proprietor saw the point, and was so gratified at his acuteness, that he at once raised the clerk's wages.

CURE FOR A FELON.—One of the most annoying of so-called "little" troubles is a felon, and a genuine remedy is worth circulating. One who has tried it says that a poultice of onions, applied morning noon and night, will cure a felon. No matter how bad the case, lancing the finger will be unnecessary if this poultice be used. The remedy is a sure, safe and speedy one.

AN UNCONSTITUTIONAL TAX.—Judge Sawyer, of the Fourth District Court, San Francisco, has decided that the Act of the Legislature, requiring a stamp on each passenger ticket, is unconstitutional, on the ground that it militates with the exclusive power vested in Congress to regulate commerce between the States and foreign countries.

WRITE WRITTEN RIGHT.

Write we know is written right,
When we see it written write;
But when we see it written right,
We know it is not written wright;
For write to have it written right,
Must not be written right or wright,
Nor yet should it be written rite;
But write, for so 'tis written right.

FORCIBLE.—Scratch the green rind of a sapling, or wantonly twist it in the soil, and a scarred and crooked oak will tell of the act for years to come. How forcibly does this figure show the necessity of giving right tendencies to the minds and hearts of the young.

IT is not good for human nature to have the road of life made too easy, for it is better to be under the necessity of working hard and fairing meanly, than to have everything done for us, and a pillow of down to repose upon.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

SATURDAY, : : : DECEMBER 7, 1867.

J. W. SNOWBALL is the only authorized Agent at Knight's Landing for the DEMOCRAT.

WHO IS GOVERNOR OF OHIO?—The official vote of Ohio has been received and it appears there were 484,277 votes cast, of which Hays, the Republican candidate, receives a majority of 2,983. Now, in Ohio, one twentieth of this vote is, by well authenticated estimates, cast by negroes or persons having negro blood in their veins, making 24,213 negro votes, of which we have reliable accounts that at least one-half were cast by charcoal blacks who voted by the consent and approval of Republican Boards of Election, and evidently contrary to the laws of Ohio, which prohibit persons of over one-fourth negro blood from voting. It is safe to presume that none of these negroes voted to disfranchise themselves; therefore, the majority of 50,000 and over, against negro suffrage, ought, by any just rule of reckoning, to be increased by the 34,000 negro votes—one-half of which were illegally cast, and the remaining half ought not to have been allowed to vote on this question, as it was simply intended to decide whether the white citizens of Ohio deemed the negro capable of exercising the privilege of the elective franchise.

Assuming the above estimates to be correct—having been vouched for by reliable authority—the figures give Thurman a majority, after throwing out half the negro vote of over 21,000. And no candid man can read the accounts from Xena, Oberlin and other points where negroes were numerous, without arriving at the conclusion that Thurman is the legally elected Governor of Ohio. The Legislature of that State is Democratic, and it devolves on that body to hear contests and decide on the claims of contestants for the office of Governor. We hope and trust a case will be made before them, and the matter investigated, that justice may be done, feeling assured that if the Republicans had a majority in the Legislature no Democratic Governor would be allowed to take his seat, even had his majority been twice as large and no charges of fraud sustained. This is a broad charge, but with the fact staring us in the face that legally elected Representatives have been refused their seats in Congress, and others illegally ousted from the United States Senate, simply because they were Democrats, we are forced to the conclusion that, with the Republican party, the robber's plea that "might makes right," predominates.

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We have received a communication from Everson & Haines, of San Francisco, agents of the above named Company, in refutation of statements made in an article which appeared, a short time since, in the columns of the Spirit of the Times, on the subject of Life Insruance, and from which we published an extract in the DEMOCRAT of November 23d. If there were unjust representations contained in the article alluded to, as the explanation of E. & H. seems to indicate, we regret having published and called attention to the said extract. If we were wrongfully led into the belief that some soliciting agents were acting improperly in the prosecution of their business, we assuredly had no intention of misleading the public in regard to the intents and purposes of the Company which those gentlemen represent, as we know of no reason why it should not be regarded as an excellent institution.

EX-GOVERNOR LOW.—Whatever may have been said of this gentleman's political sins of omission or commission, it is certain that in retiring from office he had it in his power to command at least a decent share of respect from Democrats as well as Republicans. In the exercise of the appointing power, however, he has pursued a course which must be distasteful to honest men, even in the ranks of his own party. The numerous commissions recently issued by him to Notaries who resigned in order that they might be re-appointed, are discreditable, both to the giver and receiver. Such schemes and tricks—always contemptible—are sometimes overlooked in the heat of political excitement, but when they are consummated by the deliberate act of one occupying the proud position of Governor, they cannot escape the condemnation of all high-minded, honorable men. F. F. Low must lie down in the political grave dug for himself by his own hands

FORNEY.—The "Dead Duck" is anxious to secure the nomination for Vice President on the Republican ticket with Grant, whom he wants nominated for President. An exchange, in referring to the illustrious manufacturer of evidence for divorce cases, says:

It will not be long before the Senate will kick him out of the Clerkship he holds in its service, and then he will be reduced to live in disgrace on the handsome fortune he has managed to lay up by such means as would make a foot-pad blush for his integrity.

WADE and CHASE have been quarreling for some years as to which of them should have the leadership in Ohio. The people have settled it by repudiating both. They have turned Wade out of the Senate, and rejected the negro amendment, which Chase, neglecting his judicial duties at Washington, went out to Ohio to carry by fifty thousand majority.

OLD BROWNLOW has been elected Senator in Congress from Tennessee, but does not take his seat till March, 1869. Horace Maynard withdrew in his favor with the understanding that he should die before that time. —[Mountain Democrat.

LOSS AND GAIN.—In the Iowa election on the largest vote ever polled, the Radicals lost 4,264 and the Democrats gained 7,164 votes, making a net Democratic gain of 11,428.

Democracy vs. Republicanism.

Since the defeat of the Radicals in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and several other States, they are extremely exorcised over the coming Presidential election. Almost simultaneously with the news of their rout at the polls comes the general Mongrel cry for Grant. Viewing him in the light in which he has been reviewed by the Republican press during the past year, it is but natural to suppose that he is the least available candidate in the Mongrel ranks. Sumner, Stevens and Phillips have each in turn assailed him. The latter, with much bitterness of expression, declared him an ally of the "traitor Johnson." And the whole Radical press concurred in denouncing him as unworthy the Radical cause, because of his reticence upon the measures of that party, as well as his seeming disinclination to openly approve Radical policy. Hence, the query: Why has he so suddenly become the great man and wonderful patriot in Republican eyes within the past few weeks? The answer is plain. This course furnishes them with their last straw of hope. In the rapid decline of their power, they are reduced to the extremity of self-stultification in the pitiable condition of fawning flatterers, who are beseeching this favor from one who was but recently the object of their abuse and distrust, but who now appears on the arena as their new political leader. This change of tactics has been found necessary, and their secret watchword is now "Grant, or defeat." The fact is they feel the truth of the impending righteous verdict already foreshadowed by the voice of the people, which dooms them to utter defeat in any event. Grant is not the acceptable representative of their peculiar doctrines, nor could he receive their endorsement as a candidate if any other choice remained for them. But seeing no other hope for success, they are willing to sacrifice principle for spoils. Like their shoddy goods, their principles are for sale when they fail otherwise to obtain the spoils.

In contradistinction to this policy of the Mongrels, we would hold up the Democratic palty in its past great, glorious and consistent record. And in speaking of the Democratic party, we do not mean the (at times) would-be-leaders of the party, but the rank and file, the bone and sinew, the voters and workers in the Democratic vineyard. It is to these we allude; and we ask, when have they ever sacrificed principle for power? When have they ever been Tylerized? When have they elected an enemy in disguise to a prominent place or power? Never. Assumed leaders sometimes make mistakes, and for personal ends and ambitious motives, engineer the nomination of a policy candidate, as in the case of McClelland. But there the work ends, and the faithful spew them out of their mouths, rendering defeat inevitable to the Democratic party whenever its leaders undertake to sacrifice principle. We recognize no policy that is not rooted and grounded on principle. The Constitution, as founded by Washington, Jefferson, and a host of patriots of their day, is the corner-stone of Democracy, and thus founded, we stand on the rock of eternal right and justice, from which we cannot be permanently driven. In the approaching contest, let Democrats profit by past experience, and determine, as heretofore, to surrender no principle for the sake of truckling policy. Let the rank and file of Democracy stand firm in the right, and give their leaders to understand that no compromise of principle must be made in securing the nomination of a candidate for the Presidency. We want no broken-down, spavined, wind-galled Mongrel who is deficient in the qualifications of a statesman, and is indebted only to some scene on the gory field of battle for his unenviable notoriety, as the standard bearer of Democracy to lead them, through his disregard to the Constitution of our fathers, to an inevitable and ignominious defeat. Let the Democratic candidate be selected from a number of such men as Seymour of Connecticut, Pendleton of Ohio, and other sound Constitutional statesmen. —men that Democrats can vote for, rally to the support of,—men untainted with the foul heresy of niggerism, consolidationism, or any other of the foul isms, bred and engendered by Mongrelism, and new life will be infused into the Democratic veins that will give hope to every lover of his country, and insure a glorious victory in 1868.

THE INAUGURATION of Gov. Haight took place in Sacramento on Thursday, 5th inst. It is said to have been witnessed by a great crowd. After the administration of the oath of office in the Assembly Chamber, the Governor delivered his Inaugural Address in the presence of an immense number of people who, failing to find room within, had collected in front of the capitol. The address was received with cheers and firing of guns. The ball in the evening, in honor of the event, was a grand affair, and passed off to the entire satisfaction of all who were present.

A TELEGRAM, dated Montgomery, Dec. 5th, states that alarming excesses have been committed by the negros in Bullock county Alabama. The civil authority has been resisted by the negro "Loyal League," who have formed themselves into mobs and threaten destruction to all who oppose their proceedings. Troops were found necessary to quell the disturbance, and fifteen of the scoundrels were arrested.

In the language of the golden rule, slightly altered to suit the occasion, the Democratic party will "do as they were done by." —[Examiner.

Then every office holding radical in this State who holds his position by appointment from the State officers, will receive his "walking papers".—[Quincy Union.

JAY COOKE is said to have made over $13,000,000 profit out of Government securities during the war.

For the "Democrat."

Honorable L. B. Mizner.

This distinguished gentleman, Senator from Yolo and Solano,—"Our Senator"—has reached the proud position of President pro tem. of the State Senate. He is an enterprising politician, and displays extraordinary judgment in choosing the market to vend his wares where they are most in demand. His last adventure was in the Black Republican camp, and it is seen he has met with decided success. Honors thicken in his pathway, and the tide of his fortunes promises to achieve for him the very pinnacle of notoriety.

We all distinctly remember how he appeared in the Convention at Woodland, in July, two years ago, begging Democrats to give him their support for State Senator, and procured the appointment of Democratic delegates from Yolo to meet other delegates at the Solano House to nominate him as the opposing candidate to Captain Frisbie, who was the regular Republican nominee; we all recollect the sweet and honeyed speech he made in our Woodland Convention, favoring reconstruction on a conservative and conciliatory basis; how he denounced negro suffrage and political equality of the races as the most hateful and abhorrent of all fanatical ideas, and made the distinct and unequivocal pledge that if elected he, at all times and in every situation connected with his duties as legislator and representative of the sentiments and will of the people, by whose votes alone he expected to be elected, would resist the purpose of establishing the infernal doctrine as an institution upon our own soil by act of the State, and particularly the unholy attempt to force the degradation upon the whites of the South by mandate of Congress. The Democrats of the two counties, relying upon pledges thus publicly given, gave him the nomination, and elected him by their votes. The very man who gave us such good Democratic talk in our Convention, is now the Black Republican President pro tem. of the Senate, and upholds and defends the Radical policy of Congress. The truth is that it was only the gentleman's political faith and honor he pledged to us; and it proves to be worth what a Republican's pledge always is in such cases,—just nothing at all. May the lesson prove profitable in the future, and determine Democrats to trust a Black Republican no more.

Letter From "K."

EDITOR DEMOCRAT—Sir: "J," in your last issue, reads the people of Yolo county a moral on the subject of taxation. Seeing a petition, praying the Board of Supervisors to levy additional tax for school purposes, caused that production. Now, I go in for schools. What is a few paltry dollars, compared to the education of our children? Let the property of our county educate the children. Let the teachers be well paid. Why so tender-footed on that subject? Have we not lands and money? Do we not live in a fast age? Then away with such old fogyism! "J" would like to have us stop and look at our finances. Are they not in a good condition? Have we not a place to put every dollar raised,—and a good one too? Why, sir, the Road Fund of our county is only about three years behind; and the General Fund, if we have first rate luck, and the Board feels liberal, we will raise enough next year to pay the outstanding warrants registered the first six months of the present year. Who does not see that our county finances are in a good condition? In support of my position, I will give you a few figures: December 2d, the outstanding warrants on the General Fund amounted to the sum of $29,426 16; cash on hand, $8 478 72 only leaving the payment of $20 947 44 to be provided for; also the interest amounting to $3,000. Now, sir, when we take into consideration the fact that we raise some $14,000 a year under the present rate of taxation, cannot any one, with an ordinary comprehensive mind, see clearly the time when the different funds of our county will be out of debt.

VALLANDIGHAM ON BINGHAM.—Vallandigham, in a recent speech, thus referred to John A. Bingham: "Bingham has chosen to speak of Vallandigham as "sticking out his neck like a crane and gibbering like a ghost." Let me tell him that it is not the ghost of Vallandigham that disturbs his serenity. Vallandigham is still alive and able in the flesh to vex his foes. [Applause.] It is the avenging spirit of that unhappy woman which flit before his vision at noon day and glares across the meditation of his guilty conscience at mid night. It is the ghost of his victim that dogs his footsteps, mocking, threatening, tormenting, aggravating and driving him to the doom of a suicide. [Applause.] Says this counselor of a murderous conspiracy, the negro is just as fit to vote as the tail end of a wheelbarrow, meaning thereby the hard working Irishman. Has he not read the history of the Emerald Isle! Knows he nothing of her statesmen, her scholars and her warriors? Has he never heard of her orators, carrying multitudes captive with the resistless power of native eloquence? Of her poets, thrilling the hearts of humanity with songs, and immortalizing the land of their birth and the race from which they sprung? Must the great and the gifted and the good be thus insulted by ignorance and malice? I shall dismiss the unmanly reviler of genius from further consideration, and if he wishes to discuss the merits of the Irishman and the African, let him produce from his negro pets a record that will compare with that of the people he assails.

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—A gentleman and his family came near being fatally poisoned a few days ago, by eating pies made from pie-plant that had been kept preserved in tin cans. The acid of the plant combined with the metal, and the contents of the can were blackened, but it was not supposed at the time that anything poisonous had been evolved. The symptoms were vomiting and violent pains in the stomach. Persons preserving acidulous fruits should be careful and not put them in cans made of such metals as would combine with the acid.—[Oakland Journal.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

COUNTY ROADS.—We desire to call the attention of the Road Overseers of Woodland and Grafton districts to the present condition of the road between this place and Knight's Landing. This is a great thoroughfare of travel in the county, and the road is naturally a good one, but there are points where repairs are needed. Between Woodland and the lower bridge on Cache Creek, there are two or three bad places which should be attended to at once, but which, if left in their present condition, will soon become almost impassable. On the other side of Cache Creek, between the bridge and Knight's Landing, there are also several bad mud-holes which need attention, especially those near Knight's Landing. The people of the county are willing to pay a liberal road tax, but demand something in return for the money thus expended; and here is a chance presented for those interested to answer that demand. Nearly all the goods used at Woodland during this season of the year come by the way of Knight's Landing, and have to be hauled over this road, and there is no reason why it should not be a good one. We hope the Board of Supervisors will give this matter the attention it deserves, and if the Road Masters forfeit their rights to office, through neglect, let us have new ones appointed who will attend to their duties. At all events let us have good roads.

CHEERING PROSPECT.—Never, in our experience in Yolo county, have we seen a more flattering prospect for the farmers than is presented, thus far, this season. We think it safe to say that the amount of grain already sowed is more than half as much as that planted during the whole of last year. So far, we have had an unusual quantity of rain, and there is good reason to believe that the crops will all be in by the 1st of February, and that fully twice the usual quantity of land will be planted. More favored, in many respects, than other countries, all that is needed here—generally speaking—to insure large crops is plenty of rain. When the ground is once thoroughly saturated, its retentive properties are such that occasional showers during Spring are amply sufficient to produce an abundant yield of cereals.

PROBATE COURT—MONDAY.—Estate of Israel Sloane, deceased—R. P. Davidson appointed attorney to represent absent heirs; order of sale of real estate, and order directing administrator to execute deed to John Dollarhide; R. P. Davidson appointed referee to examine annual account. Estate of I. W. Brownell, deceased—Abner Brownell appointed administrator; appraisers appointed. Estate of S. J. Thomas, deceased—sale of personal property confirmed. Estate of Wm. Allingham, deceased—Richard Allingham appointed administrator. Estate of John McClory, Deceased—petition filed for revocation of letters of administration granted to A. McClory, July 1st, 1867. Order of citation to A. McClory to appear on the 14th of December, 1867, to show cause why his letters should not be revoked.

SANTA CLAUS.—The time is approaching when the young folks may look out for the advent of Santa Claus. A dispatch has been received from one of his invisible messengers, stating that he would plant two Christmas trees in Woodland, and load them down with nice presents for all good children. Being unable to obtain a house large enough to hold himself and his numerous friends, he has engaged two large churches, the Methodist and the Christian, and expects to be present at both places at the same time on Christmas Eve, to distribute his nice presents. Go and see him.

THE EFFECT.—The late rains have caused a marked change in the appearance of the wharf at Knight's Landing. Every boat that comes up the river is heavily freighted with merchandise and farming implements for the stores and mechanics in various parts of the county. The amount of goods sold and consumed in the county is immense! To be fully convinced of this fact it is only necessary to witness the piles of general merchandise discharged at the above point.

REV. P. GROVE.—We received a call on Thursday from this excellent man who has recently been assigned by the M. E. Conference to the Cacheville circuit. When not engaged in his religious duties, he amuses himself by vigorously plowing up the ground on his farm, preparatory to sowing a crop of tame oats. His motto seems to be "work and pray," and judging from his robust appearance both these essentials appear to agree with him.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT.—In consequence of other pressing engagements, Rev. M. C. Briggs was unable to fulfill his appointment to lecture in Woodland on the evenings of Wednesday and Thursday last. The Committee, in behalf of the Good Templars, has secured the services of Mrs. Laura Cuppy, who will deliver the concluding lectures of the course. Due notice will be given in regard to the time and place of her appointment.

BLENDING THE USEFUL WITH THE ORNAMENTAL.—Clark-Elliott's new and substantial two-story brick building, on Main street, has lately undergone quite a change in its outside appearance. The front of the building has been beautifully painted and interspersed with excellent representations of marble blocks, making it a striking feature in the adornments of the town and a decided credit to Peterson & Bro., who executed the work.

NEW CHURCH.—The citizens of Cacheville and vicinity, having subscribed liberally for the purpose, are building a fine church for the use of the Methodist denomination in that circuit. The building will be enclosed about the first of January next. Dimensions, 34x48 feet. It is a wooden building, and will be finished in imitation of stone.

HUSTON, GOLDMAN & CO.—The personal reputation and past experience of the members of this firm are a sufficient guarantee of their future success in Knight's Landing, where they are now offering for sale a large and attractive stock of goods suited to the market. See advertisement.

KEAN & MILLER.—The increasing trade of this firm, in their line, makes it necessary for them to order constant supplies of new goods, which they are selling at accommodating rates, at their stand on Front street, Knight's Landing.

GORGEOUS!—The display of Jewelry in the show-case of Ruggles & Machfert, this week, is really very attractive and especially adapted to the wants of those who desire to personate the liberality of Santa Claus during the holidays.

CHANGED HIS BASE.—Our friend, A. J. Hall, recently Assessor for the Third District of Yolo, has gone into winter quarters with Fleishman & Kaufman, where he is now acting in the capacity of salesman.

A BALL is announced to come off at the Union Hotel in Knight's Landing on Christmas night. For particulars, see advertisement.

NEW DRUG STORE.—We learn that Lane & Miller are building a drug store in Knight's Landing.

RECAPITULATION.

Union Senator	23
Democratic Senators	17

Democratic majority in Joint Convention	18

THE defeat of negro suffrage in Ohio is bringing many radicals to their senses. It has placed thousands of them upon the anxious seats, and we shall be surprised if we do not see many of their leading men publicly disavowing and repudiating this "vital point" in the radical platform. In New York especially will this be the case. Already we have one very marked instance. Hon. Charles Mason, the radical candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in a conversation upon the result of the late elections, said: "When a party places a black man above a white man, when black men are put in the jury box, when they make black men Judges, the people will not submit. It is repugnant to the people, and the party that adopts such measures is sure to be defeated. This doctrine can never succeed."

EIGHT HOURS.—The eight-hour Leagues of San Francisco are circulating petitions for signatures asking Congress to declare eight hours a legal day's work in all the navy yards, on all the forts or other works carried on by, through or under the control or patronage of the United States Government.

LOW WATER.—The Yuba and Feather rivers, says the Marysville Appeal, are nearly down to low water mark, and the steamer Flora is again making her summer time. She goes down at fair speed, but coming up is slow and tedious. This is a bad Winter for steamboating on the Feather river.

SEWING MACHINES,
Are the best in Use,
FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:
They are more simple and durable easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no re-winding of thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.
They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, and Embroider. No other machine Embroiders, as well as Sews perfectly.

Yolo Grove Wheat Whisky,
The Purest Article in Market!
Manufactured by GEO. COOPER.
CERTIFICATE OF PROF. BROCKFORD.
SACRAMENTO, April 9, 1867.
Mr. George Cooper: After the application of the usual chemical tests, I have no hesitation in pronouncing your "YOLO GROVE BRANDY" and the accompanying samples of White and Red Wines, Bitters and Whisky, articles entirely pure and natural, and remarkably free from the fusil oil and other sinister elements too often found among our foreign brands. Your "WHEAT WHISKY," in particular, will gain for the Yolo Grove Brand a good name and result in enhancing the native brands generally. These articles will soon be used and appreciated by medical practitioners, chemists, invalids and the general public.
Yours, truly,
THOS. W. BROCKFORD, M. D.,

STOP THAT COUGHING.
Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure, but
Newell's Pulmonary Syrup
is really the very best remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of persons in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,
and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age, for the healing of all diseases of the throat and lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands and it will cure you if you try it.
Newell's Pulmonary Syrup
This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste, soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects, entirely free from all poisonous and deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.
Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco accompany every bottle of Newell's Pulmonary Syrup.

REDINGTON & CO.'S
Extract of Jamaica Ginger:
This valuable preparation containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.
As a tonic it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for whilst it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.
It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasm that so frequently accompany that period.
It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes.
It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Neuralgia, etc.

Martha Washington HAIR RESTORER.
Trust no other, howe'er pleasant—
None can do what this has done;
Try it—always keep it present—
Use the "Martha Washington."
It is used by all and is acknowlekged to be superior to any other preparation in market.
It keeps the hair soft and glossy.
It changes the hair to its original color.
It prevents the hair falling out.
It prevents premature baldness.
It makes old heads look young, and, in fact it will do all expected of a good, genuine Hair Restorer.
Twenty thousand heads remind us
What a noble test it's stood;
Millions more shall come behind us,
With their tresses all renewed.
Do not be humbugged by buying any other preparation. Try it, by all means try it and you will never regret it.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

What's Trumps?

There are so many cards to play,
So many ways to choose,
In love, in politics and war,
To forward well our views
With ladies fair, with statesmen wise,
Or men of smaller bumps,
Before we lead our strongest suit
'Tis well to know what's trumps.

Once, worshiping at beauty's shrine,
I knelt in bondage sweet,
And breathed my vows with eagerness,
And offered, at her feet,
A heart well stored with Cupid's wealth,
A love-demented lump;
A king of diamonds won the trick—
My heart was not a trump.

Enraged to see my rival win
Upon a single rub,
As he had played the deuce with me,
I followed with a club!
Two days within the station house,
Reflecting on my sin,
I found, as others may have found,
Clubs very seldom win.

Grown wise by sad experience,
I ceased to deal with maids;
I shuffled useless follies off,
And turned up jack o' spades.
But still I find, as dust is scarce
And smaller grow the lumps,
Although the spade's an honest card,
It is not always trumps.

But, in this world of outward show,
Where Mammon rules the throng,
To ease the little joints of life
And smoothly pass along,
You'll find an antidote for care
And stern misfortune's bumps,
In diamonds—which are sure to win,
For they are always trumps.

An English merchant was dining with a Chinese mandarin, when it struck him that perhaps the dish which he had eaten of so heartily and liked so much might have been stewed cats—for he had heard that they eat cats in China. The Chinaman didn't know English, so his guest, anxiously pointing to the dish, inquired—"Miow? miow?" "No, no," said the mandarin, "bow-wow."

A friend of ours has a wife who inflicts upon him every season two or three immense evening parties. At one of those parties he was standing in a very forlorn condition, leaning against the chimney-piece, when a gentleman, coming up to him, said, "Sir, as neither of us are acquainted here, I think we had better go home."

"Who's there?" said Robinson, one cold Winter night, disturbed in his repose by some one knocking at the street door. "A friend," was the answer. "What do you want?" "Want to stay all night." "Queer taste, ain't it? But stay there, by all means," was the benevolent reply.

A Reason.—"I would not marry an Eastern man if I had to live an old maid all my life," exclaimed a buxom country lass. "Why not?" remarked her astonished companion. "Because every paper you pick up contains an account of the failure of the Eastern mails."

An Oregon paper has the following: "The Herald mentions that Levi Anderson, Esq., of Portland, lately married a couple in St. John precinct, wherein the bride is a daughter of the wife of a brother of the bridegroom. May we ask what relation she is to her husband?

As a fop was riding a very fine horse in the park, a young and pretty lady was very evidently admiring the animal, when he stopped and impudently asked: "Are you admiring me, miss?" "No," was the ready reply; "I was admiring the horse, not the donkey."

There are two ways of doing it," said Pat to himself, as he stood musing and waiting for a job. "If I save me four thousand, I must lay up two hundred a year for twenty years, or I can put twenty away for two hundred years—now which shall I do?"

A cynical journalist says the reason so many marriages occur immediately after a a war is, that bachelors become so accustomed to strife that they learn to like it, and after the return of peace they enlist in matrimony as the next thing to war.

A Western paper publishes the following wonderful description: "Lost or strade from the scriber a sheep all over white—one leg was black and half his body—all persons shall receive five dollars to bring him. He was a she gote.

"What is the reason of a blow leaving a blue mark after it?" asked an inquiring young gentleman. "It's easily accounted for," answered a medical student; "for you know that blow in the perfect is blew."

The way they weigh hogs in Kansas is as follows: They first tie the hog to one end of a rail, balance the rail on a fence with rocks tied to the other end, and then guess how much the rocks weigh.

Increasing.—The Santa Fe trade over the plains has become very large. The amount paid for freight on that route last year is estimated at $23,000,000.

"I do wish to be cured of lying in bed so late in the morning," said a lazy husband. "Well, I will try the water-cure," said his wife, and she did.

LOSSES BY FIRE!

—IN THE—

United States,

From the Organization of the Government, to the close of 1866, have Exceeded

One Thousand Million Dollars,

(Say $1.231.844.517,)

As computed from the best available statistics. The current losses by Fire within the United States, are now an average of about

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS PER DAY.

The calculations include only the current Fires among Mercantile, Manufacturing, and Private and Public Property. No portion of this fair land, no favored spot is exempt from the ravages of the Fire Fiend. An average amount of hazzard hangs over every piece of consumable property. Your house, your store, warehouse, your shop, mill, or factory is just as liable to be burned as any other of like kind and management.

It is the benificent aim of Insurance to equalize and distribute to this immense loss, so that calamities, instead of falling with crushing weight upon the few, shall be easily borne by the many.

Are you Insured? If not, why not? The cost is trifling! The duty is manifest; the result may be your escape from ruin, while delay and neglect may involve you in irretrievable disaster, bankruptcy, poverty and cruel disappointment!

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

Dr. Julien Perrault, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

Dr. Perrault has the pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner of Montgomery and Sacramento street San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance on either Montgomery or Sacramento streets.

Dr. J. Perrault's studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of various forms of Nervous and physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permantly induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long afterward, patients laboring under this complaint will complain of one or more of the following symptoms: Nocturnal emissions, pain in the back and head, weakness of memory and sight, discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are weakened, loss of memory ensues, ideas are clouded, and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc. The patient will probably complain of dizziness, Vertigo, and the sight and hearing are weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, malancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, and numbness of the body. Some of the most common symptoms are pimples in the face, and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. Perrault, either in person or by letter, as he will guarrantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and impotence in six or eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage, Gonnorrhæa, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions etc., will be treated successfully. All syphilitic and mercurial taints entirely removed from the system.

Dr. Perrault's diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regular educated practitioner. The best reference given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor cure every body, but we claim that in all cases taken under treatment we will fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried their boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures.

Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

Dr. Perrault is the only agent in California for Dr. Biot's Female Monthly Pills. Their immense sale has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached and far in advance of every other remedy for suppressions and irregularities, and other obstructions in females. On the receipt of five dollars these Pills will be sent by mail or express to any part of the world, secure from damage or curiosity.

Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. Perrault, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets Rooms 9, 10, 11, or Box 973, P. O. San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible, general habits of living, occupation, etc., etc. All communications confidential. n23

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

Quick Cures and Moderate Charges!

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

Private Medical and Surgical Institute,

Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific Medical aid, in the treatment and Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all sexual disorders.

To the Afflicted.

Dr. W. K. DOHERTY, returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he consults at his institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary organs, and all Private Diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal eakness, and all those horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc.; and he hopes that his long experience and successful PRACTICE will continue to insure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references of unquestionable veracity from men of respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him, by letter or otherwise will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

To Females.

☞ When a female is in trouble or afflicted with such diseases as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of the digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, she should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other Physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All married ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are opened only and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible. I the case be fully and candidly described personal communication will be unnecessary, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case itself (including the remedies) will be forwarded without delay, and in such a maner as to convey no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

☞ Consultation at the office or by letter, free. Permanent cures guaranteed or no pay.

Address— W. K. DOHERTY, M.D,
San Francisco.

Spermatorrhœa.

Dr. Doherty has just published an important pamphlet embodying his own views and experiences in relation to Impotence, or Virility; being a short treatise on Spermatorrhœa, or Semina. eakness, Nervous and Physical Debility consequent on this affection, and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

This little work contains information of the utmost value to all, whether married or single, and will be sent Free by mail on receipt of Six Cents in postage stamps for return postage.

Address— W. K. DOHERTY, M. D.
